

About Us

ABP Distribution specialise in the addressed and unaddressed mail market sectors of the postal industry. Our Business Partners are Neopost and Royal Mail, two of the most established and recognised organisations in the Postal Market. Our customers are the most important part of our business, regardless of size or expenditure.

The Aim

- To provide Tailored Postal Service second to none
- Offer full Flexibility and an unrivalled service to satisfy YOUR requirements, not OURS!
- Cost Effectiveness, not detracting from High Standards of Service
- Dedicated Customer Service & Account Management

A little about Post

Since the market re-regulated in 2004, alternative postal providers have been able to carry mail on behalf of organisations in competition with Royal Mail but still need to use their postmen to deliver mail to households and in the UK. This process is known as Down Stream Access or 'final mile' delivery.

ABP Distribution will collect, sort and process your mail before delivering it directly (hence no time delay) to a Royal Mail Inward Mail Centre for “final mile” delivery to the many businesses and households across the UK by their postmen.

The postal market was deregulated in 2004, opening up the market so that other postal providers could provide alternative services in the marketplace; a move that is bringing innovation, efficiency, cost savings and choice to you, the customer. We are committed to providing a cost-effective alternative postal delivery solution.

Why Use ABP Distribution for mail?

- We can meet your needs across the UK. We offer full national coverage to cater for all postal collections and deliveries (including overseas).
- We are one of only a few postal providers to take care of both your addressed and unaddressed mail requirements

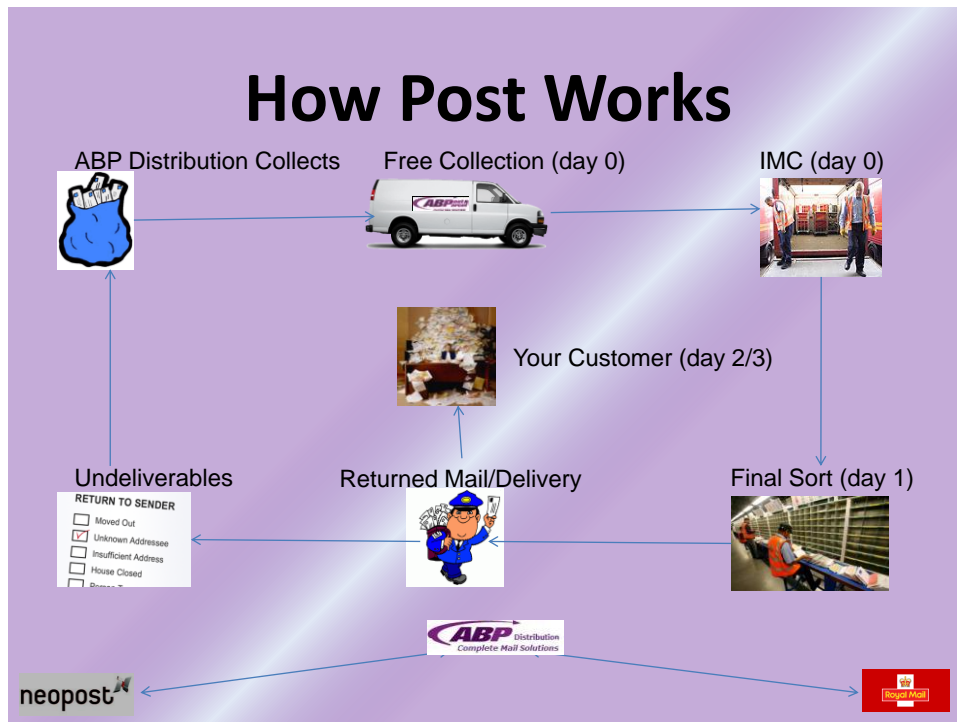

- No Contractual Commitment from you, the Customer
- Potential Savings
- Dedicated Customer Service & Account Management
- Personal Service
- Free Collections of minimum 250 items of mail
- Flexible Collection Times

We have gained an excellent working relationship with its clients from major and regional newspaper groups to small and medium businesses by its professional approach to letterbox marketing. We strive to ensure customer confidence in using the various delivery options. Our varied client portfolio includes NHS Pct's, local authority contracts, publishers, marketing companies, financial institutions and national supermarket chains.

Supported by our office administration staff, all our delivery teams are supervised by a team leader and deliveries are continually checked at random for confirmation of delivery across the distribution area ensuring deliveries are going to plan. This philosophy and methodical approach has been greatly appreciated by our Customers and we are able to offer a full and comprehensive Post & Parcel service throughout the United Kingdom.

Our Postal Operation is flexible and designed to tailor the service to your exact requirements thus allowing you to send your mail with the minimum of fuss. We believe that we are a unique brand in the mail industry due to our “hands on” and personal approach whilst offering a cost-effective tailored solution whatever your requirements may be.
